

New French Tractor Which Builds Trenches And Constructs Breastworks as It Travels

INFANTRY GOING with "TANK."

The photo gives a side view of the great new motor tractor now being used by France. This war monster is built on a larger scale than any similar machine in common use in this country. The tractor rumbles along, leaving in its wake a deep, clean cut trench. Earth and rock removed by the huge scoops are thrown up on the sides of the excavation, making an admirable breastwork.

has been valuable to the existent Government. He announced he would sit in the front of the opposition bench from now on. "I hope to give the new Government all the support my experiences has brought me, and I trust I may be helpful," he declared.

On Friday of last week, Mr. Asquith said, he received Lloyd George's proposal for a smaller War Council. The same day he replied that the Prime Minister must preside over such a body. Mr. Lloyd George did not agree to this, and on Sunday the Unionist Ministers intimated they had had a meeting at which they decided they could not remain in the Government if he did, and that if he did not resign they would.

He says Lloyd George later, and, being desirous of maintaining unity of the Government, appealed to Boar Law to remain in office. They had a conversation and attempted to accommodate their views as to the relationship between the Premier and the War Council and as to the personnel of the Council. On these two points they differed, and the difference of opinion was strong and sharp.

COULDN'T REMAIN AS A SPECULATOR OF THE WAR.

An arrangement was then suggested that the Premier should control the war policy of the Government, that the War Council should submit its decisions to him and that the proposals of the War Council should be submitted to him. No agreement was reached, and he wrote Mr. Lloyd George the next day, giving his decision in the matter. He said that he was not prepared to remain in the Cabinet as a spectator of the war and that it was not possible to have a War Council without the Premier as chairman. After consulting with his friends he resigned.

He had since been asked, he continued, why he did not accept a subordinate position. His colleagues were unanimous in advising against it. It was pointed out that if he joined the Government, which he wished complete success, the attacks would continue.

Viscount Grey, speaking in the same gathering, said he understood Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty under the coalition Cabinet, would be Foreign Secretary in the Lloyd George Ministry, and Lord Clegg, Minister of Blockade under the Cabinet just passed, would be made Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

The Daily News, a strong supporter of Lloyd George, has made a strenuous protest against these appointments.

A prominent Liberal who attended the meeting said:

"We are going to give whole-hearted support to the new Government. Mr. Asquith, our leader, advised the earlier arrivals with the cry 'Another wait and see.'

The Suffragettes became more aggressive when Mr. Asquith drove up and, on being forced into the roadway by the police, they contended themselves with cries of "Traitor" and other abusive terms. Lord Haldane was greeted with "Kaiser Haldane."

When Viscount Grey arrived the Suffragettes created such a disturbance that the police had to escort him into the club. The crowd, with the exception of the women, gave ex-Premier Asquith and his colleagues a hearty reception.

A disturbance that occurred was caused by women who belong to the section of the Women's Social and Political Union which has been protesting against the alleged failure of the Entente diplomacy in the Balkans and complaining of other shortcomings on the part of the late Government.

LLOYD GEORGE SOON TO TAKE UP HOME RULE.

The Manchester Guardian says the report that Premier Lloyd George will attempt an immediate solution of the Irish question by means of an imperial conference is not unlikely.

The Irish Party will meet to consider the situation after the Cabinet is announced. It may be safely assumed that the party will take a position of strict neutrality until it sees substantial reason to change it. Lloyd George would gladly make a Nationalist in his Cabinet, but of course none would accept a post.

The Standard says it understands that the following Cabinet appointments are certain to be made:

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Andrew Bonar Law.

Secretary for Foreign Affairs, A. J. Balfour.

First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Edward Carson.

Secretary for War, Earl of Derby.

Secretary for Labor, Arthur Henderson.

The home office portfolio, according to the newspaper, was offered to Sir Frederick E. Smith, Attorney General in the coalition Cabinet, but he preferred to retain the Attorney Generalship.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

Catarrh is such an insidious disease and has become so prevalent during the past few years that its treatment should be understood by all.

Science has fully proved that Catarrh is an intestinal disease and does not require a constitutional treatment. Bitter, pepper, salves and mass doses of salves, if ever give lasting benefit and often drive the disease down the air passages and into the lungs.

If you have Catarrh or Catarrha, deafness or head-nurses, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Paraffin (one-half oz. oil).

Take this and add to it a pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved, take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

This will soon be quick relief from the distressing cold-nurse condition and nasal stuff dropping into the throat.

This treatment has a slight tonic action which makes it especially effective in cases where the body has been fatigued and weak. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every person who wishes to be free from this distressing ailment should give this treatment a trial.
